Explanation:

The Incorporated Societies Act 2022 and the Charities Act 2005 require that persons wishing to serve on a management committee of an Incorporated Society must state in writing:

1. That they are not precluded by law or legislation from holding a position on a management committee. Examples of this are undischarged bankruptcy or a person currently subject to a court order forbidding their participation under sections of the Charities Act 2005 and the Incorporated Societies Act 2022. Detailed explanations of legislation are contained in sections 7 and 8 of the Society’s constitution.
2. That they give their permission for their name to be considered.
3. That they are current financial members of the Whangarei Repertory Society Incorporated.
